RESEARCH MANUSCRIPTS

1. Market segmentation by profit status: evidence from hospice with Norma B. Coe, Katherine EM Miller, Chuxuan Sun, and Lindsay White. Health Affairs Scholar 2(12): <https://doi.org/10.1093/haschl/qxae160>.

Measures how much of the variation between for-profit and not for-profit hospice programs' enrollees is explained by hospices' referral networks and patients' medical conditions

2. Provider payment incentives: evidence from the U.S. hospice industry with Norma B. Coe. Forthcoming at the Journal of Public Economics; NBER Working Paper 31691.

Measures the effect of a Medicare payment cap on hospice agencies' admissions, discharges, and patient mix; identifies evidence of modest gaming and provider-induced demand

3. Entry barriers in provider markets: evidence from dialysis certificate-of-need programs R&R: American Economic Journal: Economic Policy

Measures dialysis CON programs' effects on entry, competition, access, treatment modality, hospitalizations, congestion, mortality, and costs in North Carolina and Washington

4. Assessing facility, resident, and financial characteristics associated with HUD 232-sponsored loan participation in nursing homes with Tyler Braun, Rahul Fernandez, David Stevenson, David Grabowski, Dunc Williams, Luz Jimenez, and John Bowblis. Journal of the American Medical Directors Association 26(7): <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.jamda.2025.105630>.

Measures the association between HUD 232-sponsored loan uptake and NH characteristics

5. Estimating event studies when units experience multiple events In Revision.

Introduces DID estimators for units experiencing multiple successive events and evaluates their effectiveness in Monte Carlo simulations
